

November 1, 2004

Federal Communication Commission (FCC)
Washington, DC

Dear FCC;

It concerns me greatly that radio stations like K-Love are threatened by interests only seeking to serve their own needs and not the community at large. I have been a K-Love listener and financial supporter for several years, and while it is a national broadcast it provides excellent content. It is focused on many things, such as meeting the needs of it listeners and not just for music but comfort.

Compared to other radio stations, I have never worried about anything played or discussed on K-Love. I do not have to worry about what my children will hear on K-Love because it is not trying to attract listeners with sexually-loaded content or trash. More important, it builds listeners up and never tries to entertain it listeners at the expense of others. How many other radio stations that claim they are trying to build others up while entertaining them. Not many.

K-Love is unique and provides a unique service to me, my family and my community. It is focused on positive, up lifting messages. It is a beacon in the morass of the content of most other radio stations.

Sincerely,

Kent A. Alexander
564 Hevern Drive
Wheaton, IL 60187-7375